

The Nation's Premier Youth Health & Safety Organization

May 12, 2025

Dear Tasneema,

I take great pleasure in informing you that you have been chosen as the National Vice President of the SADD Student Leadership Council for the 2025-2026 term. A panel of leaders in the field chose you from a group of extremely talented and capable applicants. You and your family have good cause to be very proud of your accomplishment. Personally, I am delighted that you will represent SADD over the course of the next year. Your talents and abilities, coupled with your leadership and compassion, make you well-qualified to hold this important post.

I look forward to working with you to deliver SADD's message of youth safety and empowerment across the country.

As a member of the Student Leadership Council, you will help guide recommendations on SADD policies and programs and coordinate the expansion of SADD across the country. In addition, you could be called upon to represent SADD at various conferences and media events.

Please notify us of your decision as soon as possible. You will receive an orientation packet with additional information about the meeting and your SLC service expectations. Please do not share this offer or your decision with anyone outside of your immediate family, advisor, and state coordinator. We will be making formal announcements once every applicant has been contacted and offers are finalized.

Stand tall, be proud, and if you have any questions, please feel free to reach out.

In partnership,

Scott L. Myers, M.A., ACNP
Executive Director
SADD, Inc.
